

Conflict of Interest Form

The Conflict of Interest Form is an agreement that the author(s) of an manuscript should declare that, in relation to the publication of a submitted manuscript, they have completely avoided ethics of publication, including plagiarism, misconduct, data falsification, or duplicate publication, and there is no commercial interest in this regard, and the authors have not received any compensation for presenting their work. The Conflict of Interest Form shows readers how the text of the article has been prepared and presented by the authors. The corresponding author signs and confrims this form on the other authors' behalf and declares the authenticity of its content. The corresponding author also declares that this work has not been published elsewhere before and has not been published in another journal. All rights to use the content, tables, images, etc. have been assigned to the publisher.
